

Division of Wildlife Conservation
Eddie Grasser, Director

Region III, Fairbanks Area Office
1300 College Road
Fairbanks, AK 99701

Alaska Department of Fish and Game
Doug Vincent-Lang, Commissioner

PO Box 115526
Juneau, AK 99811-5526
www.adfg.alaska.gov

Advisory Announcement

For Immediate Release: Oct. 12, 2022

CONTACT: John Wyman, Range Project Director
(907) 459-7292, john.wyman@alaska.gov

ADF&G and AIM-COMM to Host Open House at Fish and Game Indoor Shooting Range in Fairbanks

(Fairbanks) – The Alaska Department of Fish and Game (ADF&G), in partnership with the Alaska Interior Marksmanship Committee (AIM-COMM), is hosting a free open house event at the ADF&G Hunter Education Indoor Shooting Range, in Fairbanks, on Saturday, Oct. 15, from 12 noon to 5 p.m. The range is located at 1501 College Road, just west of Danby Street, and south of Creamer’s Refuge and College Road. The event is family-friendly, open to the public, and suitable for ages 10 and older.

The range features 10, 50-foot indoor firing lanes and classrooms where hunter education and firearms instructional classes are held, along with competitive shooting matches and other events and activities.

Range orientations will not be provided during the open house. No firearms should be brought to the open house as public range use hours are not scheduled during the event. Walk-in public hours on Saturday, Oct. 15, will be after the open house, from 5 to 8 p.m. only.

The open house will feature live-fire demonstrations, door prizes, and informational tables with speakers representing various events and classes that are conducted at the range. A “Duck Hunt Challenge” will be featured on the range’s electronic shooting system. Live-fire demonstrations of NRA Precision (Bullseye) Pistol are planned, along with demonstrations of Speed Shooting at reactive targets. Representatives of the Alaska Hunter Information and Training (HIT) Program and AIM-COMM's Hunter Education Division are expected to be on hand to answer questions about Alaska’s Hunter Education course offerings and clinics, and also to provide information about the popular NRA Youth Hunter Education Challenge (YHEC) program which was started in Alaska by AIM-COMM and the Fairbanks ADF&G Hunter Education Indoor Shooting Range. Instructors and representatives will be on hand to provide information about NRA Metallic Cartridge Reloading classes, NRA CCW - Alaska Concealed Handgun Permit courses, Marksmanship Qualification Programs (MQP), and more.

Door prizes include a $100 cash prize, .22 LR ammunition, free range time certificates and more.

ADF&G and AIM-COMM work together to help promote the safe and responsible use of firearms, hunting and hunter safety, firearms safety and marksmanship, and wildlife conservation. AIM-COMM is a volunteer-based, nonprofit (IRS 501(c)(3)) partner organization to the Fairbanks ADF&G range and was selected for national recognition with the NRA’s Donn C. DiBiasio Outstanding Club Award for 2018 and is Alaska’s first and only NRA Gold Medal organization.

For additional information about the Open House, including the schedule of live-fire range demonstrations, visit <https://www.aimcomm.org> or contact John Wyman at (907) 459-7292, john.wyman@alaska.gov or Glenn Miller at (907) 347-1396, pres@aimcomm.org.